GED® Paper-Based Test Application

Paper Based testing is limited in NYS. Please email or print and mail this application to the test center where you are requesting to test. Contact the test center directly to inquire about paper-based testing availability prior to submitting this form. Test Center contact information is found on GED.com. You will see a confirmation on your GED.com account once your test session is scheduled. Expect approximately 2-3 weeks for processing and scheduling. (Do not mail this application to the New York State Education Dept.)

If applicable, indicate with an ‘✓’ the subtest credits previously earned via testing or through Regents credits in the corresponding box below. Contact the HSE office with any questions about previously passed HSE subtests: HSE@nysed.gov. (Do not complete this section if this is your first-time testing, or if you do not have any previously passed/credited subtests. It is the candidate’s responsibility to know which subtests to request.)

Test Taken/Regents Credits	Writing	Reading	Math	Science	Social Studies
GED (2002-2013)
TASC (2014-2021)
GED (2022-present)	RLA
Credited Passing Regents Exams (Application Required) http://www.acces.nysed.gov/common/acces/files/hse/attachmentrform.pdf	ELA

Indicate below which subtest(s) you are requesting to be scheduled with an ‘✓’.

GED Subtest(s) Requested for Paper Based Scheduling	RLA*	Math	Science	Social Studies

If there are any days of the week that you are unavailable for testing due to religious, employment, or other obligations, list those days/dates here:

 RLA Note: If you passed Reading or Writing, but not both subtests, on the GED (2002-2013) or TASC (2014-2021), you will need to take and pass the full battery of the RLA to earn a High School Equivalency Diploma. The RLA incorporates both Reading and Writing. Reading and Writing are not available independently on the current version of the GED test.
